DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-19, drawn to a process for preparing a stable hydrate, classified in class 252, subclass 70.
- II. Claim 20, drawn to a disodium salt of fosfluconazole, classified in class 424, subclass 401.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different hydrates.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

During a telephone conversation with Elsa Djuardi on 12/2/04 a provisional election was made without traverse to prosecute the invention of group 2, claim 20. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action.

Claims 1-19 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Evaluations of level of ordinary skill in the art requires consideration of factors such as various prior art approaches employed, types of problems encountered in the art, rapidity with which innovations are made, sophistication of technology involved, educational background of those actively working in the field, commercial success, failure of others, and the inventor's educational level.

The "person having ordinary skill" in this art has the capability of understanding the scientific and engineering principles applicable to the claimed invention. The references of record in this case reasonably reflect this level of skill.

Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over WO 97/28169.

The reference teaches disodium salt of fosfluconazole. (page 10, example 2)

The reference does not teach the instant invention with sufficient specificity to constitute an anticipation. The reference fails to teach the specific hydrate.

The reference does teach the disodium salt of fosfluconazole, therefore there would be a reasonable expectation of success to modify the prior art to arrive at the instantly claimed invention because the prior art teaches disodium salt of fosfluconazole, which one of ordinary skill in the art would reasonably expect to form the instantly claimed hydrates when put in water. Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to create the instantly claimed hydrate from a disodium salt of fosfluconazole.
